R.L. KUPER, Inc. Launches online version of "The KUPER Report"

Moves publication into the 21st Century

NEW YORK, June 29, 2005 – Today R.L. KUPER, Inc., the company that has been providing needed consulting services to the New York metropolitan area for the past twenty years, moved it's publication "The KUPER Report" into the 21st Century by moving it onto the internet.

Over the past twenty years, The KUPER Report has provided articles of interest to C-Level Managers, Business Managers, IT Managers, and the general public in a printed newsletter. No longer will there be a need to wait for the next issue to see the valuable information provided. Now, news and reviews will be available as soon as they are published.

"Over the past 20 years The KUPER Report has been the source for unbiased product reviews and for general news of interest to the business and IT community, and also to the general public" said Richard Kuper, President of R.L. KUPER, Inc. and Publisher and Editor of The KUPER Report. "Sometimes we managed to get the publication out on a regular basis, sometimes we didn't. Now, whenever we have news or a product review ready for publication, we can just post it to the internet and it will be immediately available."
